The faculty, staff, and students of SGK Government Degree College Vinukonda celebrated World Health Day on 7th April 2021. World Health Day is celebrated worldwide to raise awareness about global health issues and advocate for better health and well-being for all.

The celebrations started with a brief introduction of the history and significance of World Health Day. This was followed by a speech by the principal, Dr. Thulasi Masthanamma, where he emphasized the importance of good health and well-being and the need to promote healthy living practices.

After the speech, students organized various programs to promote health and well-being. The programs included yoga sessions, health check-ups, and awareness talks on various health issues such as mental health, hygiene, and nutrition. The programs were aimed at promoting healthy living practices and raising awareness about common health issues faced by people.
