BRIEF DESCRIPTION

Department of Commerce Organizes Field Visit on Legal Awareness On the 17th of March 2023, the Department faculty organized a field visit aimed at raising legal awareness among the students. This initiative was part of the department's commitment to providing a holistic education that not only equips students with business and economic knowledge but also empowers them with a deeper understanding of the legal aspects that govern the world of commerce. Department Faculty Sri M Jagadeesh, K Koteswara Rao and second B.com students presented and made the field visit grand success

Objectives of the Field Visit:

1. Legal Knowledge Enhancement: The primary objective of the field visit was to enhance students' legal knowledge, particularly in the context of commerce and business transactions. It aimed to help students understand the legal framework that governs various aspects of business operations.
2. Practical Exposure: Another goal was to provide students with practical exposure to legal procedures and practices. By visiting relevant institutions and interacting with legal professionals, students were expected to gain insights into real-world legal processes.
3. Awareness of Compliance: The visit also intended to instill an awareness of the importance of legal compliance in business. Students were encouraged to recognize the consequences of legal violations and non-compliance with regulations.

Activities During the Field Visit:

The field visit was a well-planned and organized event, consisting of various activities:

1. Courtroom Observation: Students had the opportunity to observe courtroom proceedings, which offered them a firsthand look at how legal disputes are resolved. This experience provided valuable insights into the judicial system.
2. Interaction with Legal Experts: The highlight of the visit was the interaction with legal experts, including judges, lawyers, and legal scholars. Students could ask questions, seek guidance, and gain a deeper understanding of legal intricacies.
3. Visit to Regulatory Agencies: The department arranged visits to regulatory agencies relevant to commerce, such as the Securities and Exchange Commission. This allowed students to grasp the role of these agencies in ensuring fair and transparent business practices.

4. Mock Legal Scenario: To make the learning experience more engaging, a mock legal scenario was presented to students. They had to analyze the situation, identify legal issues, and propose solutions, fostering critical thinking.
5. Discussion Sessions: Post-visit discussion sessions were conducted to debrief students on their observations and experiences. These sessions encouraged students to reflect on what they had learned.

Impact on Participants:

The field visit had a profound impact on the participating students:

1. Enhanced Legal Literacy: Students reported a significant improvement in their understanding of legal concepts related to commerce. Many expressed newfound confidence in navigating legal matters.
2. Career Aspirations: Some students, inspired by the interactions with legal professionals, began considering careers in law, realizing the importance of a strong legal foundation in the business world.
3. Practical Application: The visit provided a bridge between theoretical knowledge and practical application. Students found it easier to connect legal theories they had learned in the classroom with real-world scenarios.
4. Improved Decision-Making: Participants noted that their ability to make informed business decisions had improved. They were now more cautious about legal implications when strategizing for a business venture.
5. Awareness of Ethical Business Practices: The visit also instilled a sense of ethical responsibility. Students became more conscious of the need for ethical business practices and compliance with the law.
